An overview of who makes up this segment across the United States

Who We Are

Families in this urban segment may be non-traditional; however, their religious faith and family values guide their modest lifestyles. Many residents are primary caregivers to their elderly family members. Jobs are not always easy to come by, but wages and salary income are still the main sources of income for most households. Reliance on Social Security and public assistance income is necessary to support single-parent and multi-generational families. High poverty rates in this market make it difficult to make ends meet. Nonetheless, rents are relatively low. Public transportation is available, and Medicaid can assist families in need.

Our Neighborhood

- Households are single person or single parent (usually female householders). Multigenerational families are also present.
- Homes are predominantly single family; values reflect the age of the housing, built more than 60 years ago.
- Over half of the homes are renter occupied; average rent is lower than the U.S. average.
- Most households have no vehicle or one car, with a high dependence on public transportation.

Socioeconomic Traits

- Almost a quarter of adults aged 25 or more have no high school diploma.
- Labor force participation is only 50%, with unemployment at more than double the U.S. rate.
- Income is less than half of the U.S. median income; one in three households are in poverty, dependent on Social Security, public assistance and Supplemental Security Income.
- Consumers in this market consider traditional gender roles and religious faith very important.
- This market lives for today, choosing to save only for a specific purpose.
- They favor TV as their media of choice and will purchase a product with a celebrity endorsement.

Market Profile

- To make ends meet, consumers shop at warehouse clubs and low-cost retailers.
- Unlikely to own a credit card, they pay their bills in person.
- This market supports multigenerational families; they are often primary caregivers for elderly family members. On average, Modest Income Homes residents have a higher reliance on Medicaid.
- For entertainment, they listen to gospel and R&B music and prefer to watch BET.
- The recreational activity of choice for residents is basketball.

dominant segment for this area

In this area

29.8%

of households fall into this segment

In the United States

0.9%

of households fall into this segment

An overview of who makes up this segment across the United States

Who We Are

The City Commons segment is one of the youngest and largest markets, primarily comprising single-parent and single-person households living within large, metro cities. While more than a third have a college degree or spent some time in college, nearly a third have not finished high school, which has a profound effect on their economic circumstance. However, that has not dampened their aspiration to strive for the best for themselves and their children.

Our Neighborhood

- Single parents, primarily female, and singles head these young households.
- Average household size is slightly higher than the U.S. average at 2.66.
- City Commons are found in large metropolitan cities, where most residents rent apartments in midrise buildings.
- Neighborhoods are older, built before 1960, with high vacancy rates.
- Typical of the city, many households own either one vehicle or none, and use public transportation or taxis.

Socioeconomic Traits

- Although some have college degrees, nearly one in three have not graduated from high school.
- Unemployment is very high at 24%; labor force participation is low at 54%.
- Most households receive income from wages or salaries, but nearly one in four receive contributions from Social Security and public assistance.
- Consumers endeavor to keep up with the latest fashion trends.
- Most families prefer the convenience of fast-food restaurants to cooking at home.

Market Profile

- Baby and children's products, like food and clothing, are the primary purchases.
- They shop primarily at warehouse clubs like Sam's Club and discount department stores such as Kmart.
- While most residents obtain privately issued medical insurance plans, some are covered by Federal programs like Medicaid.
- They subscribe to cable TV; children-oriented programs are popular, as are game shows and home shopping channels.
- Magazines are extremely popular sources of news and the latest trends, including baby, bridal and parenthood types of magazines.
- They enjoy listening to urban radio.

dominant segment for this area

In this area

11.6%

of households fall into this segment

In the United States

1.1%

of households fall into this segment

An overview of who makes up this segment across the United States

Who We Are

Family and faith are the cornerstones of life in the Family Foundations communities. Older children, still living at home, working toward financial independence, are common within these households. Neighborhoods are stable: little household growth has occurred for more than a decade. Many residents work in the health care industry or public administration across all levels of government. Style is important to these consumers, who spend on clothing for themselves and their children, as well as on smartphones.

Our Neighborhood

- Family Foundations residents are a mix of married couples, single parents, grandparents and children, young and adult.
- Average household size is slightly higher at 2.70.
- Neighborhoods are found in principal cities of major metropolitan areas throughout the South and West.
- Two-thirds are homeowners living in single family houses built before 1970.
- Nearly three-fourths of all households have one or two vehicles at their disposal; average commute time is slightly higher.

Socioeconomic Traits

- More than half have attended college or obtained a degree; one-third have only finished high school.
- Unemployment rate is high at 15%; labor force participation rate is slightly lower at 60% as workers begin to retire.
- Over one-third of households currently receive Social Security benefits; more than a quarter draw income from retirement accounts.
- A strong focus is on religion and character.
- Style and appearance is important.

Market Profile

- Baby and children's products are the primary purchases made by Family Foundations residents.
- They shop at discount stores, such as Marshalls and T.J. Maxx, and take advantage of savings at Sam's Club.
- Many have no financial investments or retirement savings.
- Magazines, particularly focusing on health and children, are popular.
- They enjoy listening to urban format radio.
- One of their favorite entertainment sources is television: subscribe to premium cable channels and own 3-4 TVs.
- They're connected, but use the Internet primarily for entertainment, chat rooms and online gaming.

dominant segment
for this area

In this area
11.0%
of households fall
into this segment

In the United States
1.4%
of households fall
into this segment

An overview of who makes up this segment across the United States

Who We Are

Open space, undeveloped land, and farmland characterize Rural Bypasses. These families live within small towns along country back roads and enjoy the open air in these sparsely populated neighborhoods. Their country lifestyle focuses on the outdoors, gardening, hunting and fishing. They are more likely to own a satellite dish than a home computer. Although a majority of households do have a connection to the Internet, their use is very limited. Those who are not yet retired work in blue-collar jobs in the agriculture or manufacturing industries.

Our Neighborhood

- An older market, with more married couples without children and single households, the average household size is slightly lower at 2.54.
- Most residents own single-family homes, or mobile homes.
- Most housing was built from 1970 to 1989; vacancy rates are higher due to seasonal housing.
- Residents live in very rural areas, almost entirely in the South.

Market Profile

- Typical of their country lifestyle, Rural Bypasses residents prefer trucks over sedans.
- To save money, households shop at discount department stores, such as Walmart, and warehouse clubs like Sam's Club.
- Magazines are a popular source of news and entertainment, particularly fishing, hunting and automotive types.
- As satellite TV subscribers, they regularly watch sports programming as well as their favorite shows on CMT or TCM.

Socioeconomic Traits

- Education is not a priority in this market. Almost 30% have not finished high school; only 9% have a bachelor's degree or higher.
- Unemployment is very high at 14%; labor force participation is low at 46%.
- Income is primarily derived from wages; however, dependence on Social Security and Supplemental Security Income is above average.
- Religion, faith, and traditional values are central in their lives.
- Many have a pessimistic outlook of their household's financial well-being.
- They rely on television to stay informed.

About this segment Midlife Constants

This is the #5
dominant segment
for this area

In this area
6.7%
of households fall
into this segment

In the United States
2.5%
of households fall
into this segment

An overview of who makes up this segment across the United States

Who We Are

Midlife Constants residents are seniors, at or approaching retirement, with below average labor force participation and above average net worth. Although located in predominantly metropolitan areas, they live outside the central cities, in smaller communities. Their lifestyle is more country than urban. They are generous, but not spendthrifts.

Our Neighborhood

- Older homes (most built before 1980) found in the suburban periphery of smaller metropolitan markets.
- Primarily married couples, with a growing share of singles.
- Settled neighborhoods with slow rates of change and residents that have lived in the same house for years.
- Single-family homes, less than half still mortgaged, with a median home value of $141,000.

Socioeconomic Traits

- Education: 64% have a high school diploma or some college.
- Unemployment is lower in this market at 7.4%, but so is the labor force participation rate.
- Almost 42% of households are receiving Social Security; 28% also receive retirement income.
- Traditional, not trendy; opt for convenience and comfort, not cutting-edge. Technology has its uses, but the bells and whistles are a bother.
- Attentive to price, but not at the expense of quality, they prefer to buy American and natural products.
- Radio and newspapers are the media of choice (after television).

Market Profile

- Prefer practical vehicles like SUVs and trucks (domestic, of course).
- Sociable, church-going residents belonging to fraternal orders, veterans' clubs and charitable organizations and do volunteer work and fund-raising.
- Contribute to arts/cultural, educational, political and social services organizations.
- DIY homebodies that spend on home improvement and gardening.
- Media preferences: country or Christian channels.
- Leisure activities include scrapbooking, movies at home, reading, fishing and golf.
